

ICM-9210-43 Guide to Parallel C Programming on the Encore Multimax, Paul S. Wang.

ABSTRACT: The Multimax is a shared-memory multiprocessor produced by the Encore Computer Corp. It has been installed in the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science to support computer science research in parallel computing, parallel algorithm design, systems development, and advanced engineering applications. It is also used for senior and graduate courses dealing with parallel computations.